Children's Home & Aid Participating in Indeed's 'Virtual Hiring Tour' to fill open positions Federal grant creates influx of family support positions in Northern Illinois

DeKalb County – Children's Home & Aid announced today it will participate in Indeed's free Virtual Hiring Tour program in an effort to fill more than 50 job openings with their agency.

"With unemployment at record high levels, our mission of helping people get jobs has never felt more important. This Virtual Hiring Tour is designed to help people from all backgrounds - essential workers to licensed professionals - quickly find roles, in a way that is safe and effective," said Chris Hyams, CEO of Indeed. "We are excited to partner with so many of our clients to get people across the country into these available jobs as soon as possible."

Indeed, the world's number one job site, recently announced the launch of a Virtual Hiring Tour across the United States, with an overall goal of getting 20,000 people hired. The Virtual Hiring Tour consists of a series of virtual Indeed Hiring Events which use Indeed's proprietary video interviewing technology to remove technical hurdles and speed up the interviewing timeline. Children's Home & Aid will host a Virtual Hiring event on October 14 & 15 to fill more than 50 positions in the Northern Illinois region.

"A major federal grant has expanded opportunities for those in Northern Illinois who need help with their child's early learning, parenting support, access to resources and more," said Kari Daniel, Children's Home & Aid recruitment manager. "The additional spaces for these families have created a surge of amazing home visitor, doula, supervisory, and other family support roles. We're thrilled to partner with Indeed in this unprecedented virtual hiring event to connect mission-minded job seekers with our open positions."
